

MR. MACON'S MEMORY.

JUDGE INGRAM'S FINE ADDRESS
BEFORE THE BAR.

Meeting of the Democratic Committee.
Hon. John W. Daniel and Col. Elliott
Address the Voters of Manchester.

MANCHESTER BUREAU RICHMOND TIMES,
1121 HULL STREET BRATTLE BLOCK.

Meade-Memorial church was thronged at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon by the friends and relatives who attended the funeral services of the late George Kenyon Macon. Many were forced to remain outside on account of lack of room. The officiating ministers were Rev. Mr. Macom, of Richmond, and Rev. C. N. Van Heuton, of Manchester. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, and the deep feeling was shown during the solemn and impressive services.

The following were the pall-bearers: Alexander Hamilton, Judge J. C. Minor, Judge J. H. Ingram, Judge S. B. Witt, John G. Rice, George E. Gary, W. J. Carter and Colonsay B. Jackson.

The remains were interred in Holly Hill cemetery, to which a long procession of mourners followed them.

The Bar Association of Richmond and Manchester held a meeting at 4 o'clock yesterday evening and passed resolutions in respect to the memory of Mr. Macon. The members present, James J. Minor, and Messrs. H. L. Steger, John Hunter, Dr. Alexander Cooke, E. P. Cox and S. R. P. Patterson, those from Richmond, and W. H. Wells, Alexander Lawrence, E. P. Jones, H. L. Fullam, Lawrence E. C. Pease, H. G. James, A. C. Atkinson and P. V. Coghill.

JUDGE INGRAM'S ADDRESS.

Judge John H. Ingram presided and called the meeting to order, and Mr. Lawrence E. C. Pease, an attorney at law, read the proceedings. Judge Ingram made the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in the death of George Kenyon Macon the bar of this city and State have lost a lawyer of the very highest attainments and a gentleman of stainless honor.

Resolved, That the members of the bar of the cities of Manchester and Richmond held a meeting the morning of the 21st instant with the deepest sorrow and they request that these resolutions be entered on the records of the Hustings Court of this city, the court of Chesterfield County and the city of Richmond, together with the address of Judge J. H. Ingram.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the editor of our daily newspaper, so that they may be published in the newspapers of the cities of Manchester and Richmond.

The secretary then read a letter from Mr. George E. Gary, of the Richmond Times, acknowledging a special invitation to be present at the meeting, and expressing regret that circumstances made it impossible for him to do so.

The address was also made by Messrs. A. C. Atkinson, H. L. Smith, Jr., D. L. Fullam, J. R. Tucker, Jr., and R. H. Steger.

The proceedings were characterized by great feeling, and the gathering was a fitting tribute to the memory of the noble man.

The City Central Democratic Committee met last night at 7:30 o'clock in the office of Mr. E. H. Wells, in the building known as the "new" city hall. Present were Messrs. E. H. Wells (chairman), Butler Timmons, Sharp, Nunnally, Lumpkin, Pugh, and Cox (secretary). The principal business disposed of by the committee was to pass arrangements for the reception of Hon. John W. Daniel and Colonel Tazewell Elliott who will address the voters of Manchester and Newmarket at Leigh Hall on Friday night.

Messrs. Butler and Co. were appointed a committee to arrange all the details, etc., in connection with the speaking. About 2000 people will be present and a large broadcast throughout the city, to inform all of the advent of these distinguished speakers.

A thorough organization has been effected, and the entire community is anxious to see near to him; he often spoke with pride of his Huguenot ancestors, from whom was also descended the patriot Nathaniel Macon, of North Carolina, one of whose descendants, a simpleton of unusual and integrity of character distinguished him as the admired relict of a purer age and the venerable patriarch of a new generation. The young men of the city are the sons of the idol of mother, brothers, and sisters, and no man ever repaid the debt of blood and affection with greater self-sacrifice and more cheerfully.

With the loss of his life, his young blood for his native State and constitutional liberty, being wounded on the field of New Market, where as one of the ablest orators of the South he participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

A HERO IN BATTLE.

The fidelity with which the Protestants of Franklin, Tennessee, and the surrounding counties, and deplored and amid all the violence of passion and horrors of proscriptio n, stand, and will forever stand, a testimony to their great love and to the lasting worth of human nature.

Fond of his people and justly, but not foolishly so, prouder, far prouder, of their moral worth and integrity of character than any other, he often spoke with pride of his Huguenot ancestors, from whom was also descended the patriot Nathaniel Macon, of North Carolina, one of whose descendants, a simpleton of unusual and integrity of character distinguished him as the admired relict of a purer age and the venerable patriarch of a new generation. The young men of the city are the sons of the idol of mother, brothers, and sisters, and no man ever repaid the debt of blood and affection with greater self-sacrifice and more cheerfully.

With the loss of his life, his young blood for his native State and constitutional liberty, being wounded on the field of New Market, where as one of the ablest orators of the South he participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE TIMES—RICHMOND VA: TUESDAY OCTOBER 2 1894.

Highly did he stand, and we see him as a hero on the field of battle was to have been expected, for he drew his lineage from the gallant Colonel George Mather, of Newmarket, who, in 1776, when he was fired with patriotism which he derived from the patriot parson, the Rev. Miles Seiden, from whom he was also descended, the rector of St. John's, who, in his turn, was imbued with the thunder of Henry's eloquence.

At the evacuation of Richmond, seeing the approaching dissolution of the Army of Northern Virginia, he remained, was transferred and joined the army of Johnston, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a sense of duty, he immediately participated in a battle with Federal veterans, which, if it was not war, "was magnificent," and commanded not only the admiration of the entire country, but the entire world, as an act of daring bravery attracted those in every clime who loved valor and demonstrated to the world that the bravest of Spartan youth had its counterpart in the courage of the youthful chivalry of the South.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE makes the following report for September: 32 arrests made by the police force during the month of September, not content to submit so long as there was a soldier in the field. After the war he graduated with distinguished honors, and, with a